

Recruits for Industry's Army

Women Entitled To Men's Wages, Says B. M. Baruch

Must Fill Soldiers' Places in Industry and Should Get Same Pay

(Special Dispatch to The Tribune)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—"Woman power will have to be used more and more to take up the slack in industry by the new man-power act to make it possible for the nation to fulfill its war programme," said Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board, today.

"The tendency in all lines of work is to throw down the bars and to urge women to take employment wherever the opportunity exists. This tendency has been growing in the last few months to such an extent that it was practically universal even before the new selective draft law was passed.

No formula has yet been devised for the influx of women into industry. The direct plan lies with the Employment Bureau of the Labor Department. All the essential economic elements involved in our war-time needs are coordinated and looked out for in their respective departments. Of these essential elements capital, labor, fuel, transportation, material and facilities, the greatest pressure is now being put on labor.

Mr. Baruch estimates that there are from seven to ten million workers in industry in this country. These figures include those engaged in the war work, by far the greater part of them being men. Consequently the drain upon industry will be severe to supply the required production.

At the same time the load on industry has been increased by America's war programme and the cessation of the industries of America's associates. America is called upon to supply, through its industries, its own civilian needs, its war needs, and the needs of the Allies.

The large programme demands increased man power," Mr. Baruch continued, "and the man power will be largely woman power. The slogan of America is to encourage the woman power to equal the man power. It is axiomatic that women have high potentiality in patriotic work. How can they do it? I cannot say. But I think they can do it. I think that the women of this country, through the industry, will be able to take up the slack in industry and that the needs of the Allies will be met."

A system of tuition for the new employees is being worked out. Men and women will both be taught new trades in this new draft man will be transferred from one essential industry to another.

"The key men in essential industries will be spared. And the method of working out the system of tuition will be something like this: Say a factory employs 2,000 men. About 400 of these will be left to carry on the shell of the factory. The rest of those who are most necessary. They are the key men. They will hold the important positions in the factory, and it will be their duty to help instruct the new employees."

"The nation is dependent upon women to be these new employees and conduct the industries while the men are in the army. From the very nature of American women we know that they will go far. It is impossible to estimate the number of women who will be transferred from one essential industry to another. But as President Wilson said about the army—'Why limit it?'"

B. R. T. Must Prove Justice of 10-Cent Fare, Says Kracke

The proposal of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to charge a 10-cent fare with no transfers on the subway, all its surface lines was characterized yesterday by Public Service Commissioner Kracke as "one of the most sweeping and most startling in the history of the city." The commissioner, speaking for the commission, declared that strong proof would be required to justify letting the fare of the new transit ever become effective.

It was announced by the commission that there was no possibility that any part of the increases in rates and transfers of transfers would become effective until the whole matter had been thoroughly inquired into, and all doubtful questions of law and fact carefully determined.

Jam in B. R. T. Subway When Car Jumps Track

Thousands of homeward bound Brooklynites, who have been thinking of the subway as a means of escape from the jam, were yesterday jammed in the subway when a car jumped the track on the Essex Street loop, at the peak of the rush hour, and tied up all traffic for a half hour.

Immediately following the jam, trains began to discharge all their passengers at the City Hall station. These were told they would receive transfers for the jammed cars. A few of them did, but the rest of the jammed cars grew so rapidly that few were able to get the slips.

Temporary exits, surrounded by wooden fences, were burst apart and partitions were removed, the jammed cars striving to get home. Trains began to run a half hour after the jam, but it was some time afterward before the City Hall station was relieved of its jammed passengers.

Intimates B. R. T. Strike

L. J. Griffing, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said yesterday that the number of men discharged by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company membership in the organization was increasing daily, despite the fact that the War Labor Board was expected soon to render a decision as to whether the men had the right to organize.

Dismissals had become so numerous, Mr. Griffing said, as almost to constitute a lockout. Members of the brotherhood were becoming restive, he said, though so far they had refrained from declaring a strike out of deference to the deliberations of the War Labor Board.

Women Republican Leaders, at Jubilee, Plan Campaign

Will Make House-to-House Canvass of Districts in Whitman's Interest

With the proud record of having carried every Assembly district for Governor Whitman in the recent primaries, women Republican leaders of the city met yesterday at county committee headquarters, 105 West 42nd Street, for a combination political and business meeting. Miss Helen Varick Boswell, chairman, presided.

The women leaders in the primary campaign had pledged themselves to work for the Governor's re-election, and their 100 per cent record in this their first political undertaking has been a spur that will make them hush to keep up the standard, Miss Boswell said yesterday.

Plans for getting out the Republican women vote were made at the meeting. An extra-intensive effort in the socialistic districts is to be made by Republican women both for registration and election.

"Door-to-door and woman to woman," was the advice given by Miss Boswell, in urging her leaders to cover their district in the interests of Governor Whitman. The women were urged to make a house-to-house canvass of the districts, to acquaint women with the facts regarding registration and to bring them to the polls. The women were urged to make a house-to-house canvass of the districts, to acquaint women with the facts regarding registration and to bring them to the polls.

"We'll listen to the men this first time," said Miss Boswell, "and probably to their advice, unless, of course, we think they are wrong. We'll listen to our men and our women are good advisers."

At district meetings throughout the city, men and women leaders were reflected. Miss Boswell was chosen chairman again yesterday.

3 U. S. Women Get Lieutenant's Rank in the French Army

New York Physicians Also Are Decorated for Their Bravery Under Fire

Three American women doctors have received lieutenants' commissions in the French army, and are the first American women to obtain army rank, according to word received in New York yesterday. They are Doctors Caroline Finley, Anna Van Sholly and Mary Lee Edward, all of New York, and attached as surgeons to the military unit of the women's overseas hospitals, financed and managed by the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

The women lieutenants received decorations from the French government for their brave and selfless service, and after that their commissions. The French surgeon in charge of the hospital at the front in which they were working has given the highest praise to the women doctors and has been quoted as calling Doctor Finley a "model surgeon."

Dr. Finley is a Cornell graduate and studied at Vienna, specializing in obstetrics. She was director of obstetrics in the New York Infirmary for Women and Children. Dr. Van Sholly is a Cornell medical graduate. She was attached at various times to the New York City Babies' Hospital, the Infirmary and Bellevue's fourth medical division. Dr. Edward, born in Canada, was also connected with the infirmary.

A cable from Mrs. Raymond Brown, of the national suffrage association, said that the French government has highly commended the women doctors. The tendency of the coming year to address a man named Carlo as a hero was cited as an example of the way in which the women doctors have been commended. ## Drama

"Maid of the Mountains"

Seen at the Casino Theatre

By Heywood Brown

"The Maid of the Mountains," which was produced at the Casino Theatre last night, has been running in London for more than a year, but it harks back to even earlier days. It is frankly a musical play of a type which was much more familiar half a generation ago. Modernity is denied by the presence of brigands. These gentlemen remain just outside the door of the theatres where the present-day type of musical comedy plays. There are reminders of other days also in red scarfs and tuncful music and a plot. "The Maid of the Mountains" actually possesses dramatic interest. We found ourselves excited in the second act when Teresa threatened to denounce Baldassarre, the bandit chief, to the comic governor. And she did it, but it was merely a fit of passing jealousy, and everything came out all right in the end.

Elliot, Comstock & Gost have wisely intensified the dramatic interest of their musical piece by providing excellent actors for the chief parts. William Comstock is a convincing figure as the leader of the robbers, and Sidney Espino gives a stirring performance as the Maid of the Mountains. All the advance information about the piece has stressed the vocal abilities of the young woman. She was visibly hampered by nervousness in her songs last night, but we thought her voice rather thin, although sweet in its upper register. Curiously enough, she seemed entirely at ease in her acting and carried off her scene with fine spirit. The fact that Miss Espino is a flashing beauty with magnetic eyes did not detract an atom from the charm of her performance.

The humorous portions of "The Maid of the Mountains" are not to be as highly commended as its dramatic moments. The tendency of the comic portions to address a man named Carlo as a hero was cited as an example of the way in which the women doctors have been commended. The French government has highly commended the women doctors. The tendency of the coming year to address a man named Carlo as a hero was cited as an example of the way in which the women doctors have been commended.

Newberry Not to Make Active Fight on Ford

Ex-Secretary of the Navy Truman H. Newberry, Republican candidate for United States Senator from Michigan against Henry Ford, Democratic candidate, he told his friends that he is not going to take an active personal interest in his campaign. Newberry is a lieutenant commander in the navy, stationed in this city.

"Commander Newberry is in the Berkshires on a brief vacation, but he will be back at his office in the Stewart Building the latter part of the week," one of his aids said yesterday. "He will remain here in New York, attending to his duties as an officer of the navy, and his friends in Michigan will do his campaigning for him. The people of Michigan understand the situation perfectly. The Democrats would not be only glad to see Commander Newberry drop his official work here in New York and take charge of his own primaries while discharging his official duties in the navy. He places the welfare of his country above his own interests. The Republican managers, of course, would like to have him here where they could confer with him, but he is going to stay right here in New York."

Anti-Zionist Moves In U. S. Deplored by Schiff and Straus

Hope Plans for Conference Will Be Abandoned, They Say

The Zionist Organization of America made public yesterday letters sent by Oscar S. Straus and Jacob H. Schiff in reply to invitations to attend an anti-Zionist conference. Both declined to have their names associated with such a meeting and deplored the increased dissection which they believed it would cause.

"Permit me to say," wrote Mr. Straus, "that I regard the holding of a conference to counteract the activities of Zionists as distinctly unwise and harmful. In view of the fact that Great Britain, France and the other Allied nations through their highest officials have given assurances for the welfare of the Jews in Palestine, regardless of the fact whether one is a Zionist or not, to oppose such a beneficial purpose on the part of a section of our people can only be hurtful and show a lack not only of unanimity, but of appreciation of these welcome assurances, which should receive the gratitude not only of Jews as such, but as Americans, for this first significant concrete move on the part of the Allied nations to assure freedom of development of subject nationalities."

Mr. Straus expressed the hope that the intention of calling such a conference would be abandoned. Mr. Schiff, not himself a Zionist, called such opposition to the efforts of the Allies "nothing less than preposterous."

"Your proposition, in the nature of things as these have developed," he wrote, "cannot be successful and will only bring about bitterness, recrimination and marked division among the Jewish people of this country, which, I am sure, is greatly to be deprecated."

Zionists acknowledged a gift of $10,000 to the Palestine Reconstruction Fund from Bernard M. Baruch.

Anti-Whitman Leader Has Change of Heart

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 11.—William L. Ward, of Port Chester, a leader in the anti-Whitman fight in Westchester County, was re-elected county leader almost without opposition to-day by 250 members of the Republican County Committee, who met here.

Whitman partisans, who had made threats to oust Ward, started a boom for William S. Coffey, of Mount Vernon, secretary of the State Industrial Commission and Whitman county leader, but his name was not presented. Alderman John S. Davis, of Yonkers, came to the meeting with eighteen proxies for Coffey. A New Rochelle man brought several, as did others, but Ward killed the plan by putting through a rule prohibiting one man from voting more than once.

In a speech after his election Ward pledged the support of himself and the committee to Governor Whitman and the Republican ticket.

"If you want to get me out of politics," he added, "you will have to fight me out."

Harry R. Barrett, of White Plains, was elected secretary, succeeding John J. Brown, of White Plains. William Archer, of Mount Vernon, County Treasurer, was elected committee member, succeeding Mark D. Sullis, of Mount Vernon.

Bishop, Dry Candidate, Agrees to Help Whitman

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 11.—Olin S. Bishop, of this city, who was candidate on the Prohibition ticket for nomination as Governor, and who has been defeated by Governor Whitman, has sent a letter of congratulation to Mr. Whitman, in which he says that the expression of confidence on the part of the Prohibitionists places the responsibility on the Governor to lead the state "over the top" during the coming session of the Legislature for ratification of the Federal amendment.

"To do less than your duty toward this end," says Mr. Bishop, "would be to betray the confidence of a hundred honest and more 'bone dry' prohibitionists, who are looking to you to bring about 'bone dry' prohibition next January."

Mr. Bishop assures the Governor that he is chairman of the State Prohibition Committee, will do all in his power to roll up the largest possible vote for the Prohibition ticket with Whitman at its head.

Gas Quality Lowered Here to Make Toluol

The gas consumers of New York City are contributing a very substantial share of the high explosives to the American army, according to a report filed yesterday by Commissioner Travis H. Whitney and approved by the Public Service Commission for transmission to the War Department.

The action was reached by Secretary Daniels after numerous requests had been sent to the War Department urging that other quarters be made available for the navy's needs. Rear Admiral Peoples, of the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, who made an investigation of Brooklyn, reported to Washington to-day and reported to Mr. Daniels that other provision could be made for the supply depot needed for the navy. ## Navy Will Not Use The Bush Terminal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The Navy Department to-day countermanded the order ousting tenants in the Bush Terminal when the War Department turned over space in the army's expeditionary depot to the navy for use in storing supplies for vessels used in overseas service. The commandant of the New York naval district was advised by Secretary Daniels to cancel the order calling for the vacating of Buildings 4, 5 and 6 of the terminal.

Sugar Price Is to Go Up to 11 Cents

The price of sugar is due to take another jump. In fact, the price has already been officially raised by the Federal Food Board, though retailers must sell their present stock at the old rates, putting the new scale into effect only when they begin to replenish their stock from wholesalers at the new rates.

According to an announcement made yesterday by the Federal Food Board, the new price is to be 11 cents for one pound, 21 cents for two pounds and 31 cents for three pounds. Four pounds will cost 42 cents and five pounds, 52 cents. Decreased supply, increased cost of labor, material, fuel and containers, are given by the food administration for the new scale of prices.

The food administration has taken elaborate precautions to prevent any profiteering as a result of the change in price. All raw sugar in the hands of refiners on September 9, the date officially set for the change in scale, has been purchased by the Sugar Equalization Board of the food administration. This is now to be resold to the refiners at the new prices. Consumers are urged by the food administration to purchase sugar in bulk, not only because the price is higher on package sugar, but also to save the fractions in computing prices.
